

Special Session on:
Migrant Integration Challenges and Policies

Organizers

Alessandra Michelangeli (Chair)
University of Milan-Bicocca, Italy.

Email: alessandra.michelangeli@unimib.it

Tomaz Ponce Dentinho

Association for Science and Development of the Azores, Portugal.

Email: tomas.lc.dentinho@uac.pt

Purpose and Scope

Immigration is expanding all over the world fueled by declining populations, jobs ‘availability and welfare, on one side, and poverty and social instability, on the other. Immigration involves integration and there are several integration systems, mediated by institutions and political constructs. The objective of this special session is to gather knowledge that reports, analyzes, evaluates and foresees the impacts of migrant integration on the development and wellbeing of people and places.

Papers presented on this session are invited to submit the manuscripts to the Special Issue on Migrant Integration on the Journal Regional Science Policy & Practice (<https://regionalscience.org/index.php/news/journals/item/3549-call-for-papers-rspp-special-issue-migrant-integration-challenges-and-policies.html>).

SUBMIT AN ABSTRACT