Statistics South Africa invites you to join us in celebrating African Statistics Day 2021

This event raises public awareness on the importance of statistics in all aspects of social and economic life.

The African Statistics Day Celebration will be hosted virtually on Thursday, 18 November 2021, from 10h00 to 12h00.

With South Africa’s first-ever digital census scheduled to go into field from 3 February 2022, the focus for this event will be on the modernisation of data collection systems to enable more efficient and effective data collection.

Keynote speaker

Dr Fredrick Okwayo, Technical Adviser, Population Data Policy at the United Nations Population Fund (UNFPA), will be joined by a panel of experts, including the Statistician-General, Mr Risenga Maluleke.

Please RSVP by 13h00 on Wednesday 17 November to rsvp@statssa.gov.za

The MS office link to the virtual event will be forwarded closer to the time.
